Chicago Man Drowns In Lake Marie After Falling From Rowboat

The body of Melvin Lee Morgan, 52, who fell from a boat in Lake Marie and drowned early Saturday, was recovered Tuesday morning by the Antioch Rescue squad.

It was sent to Chicago and from there will be taken to Sugar Valley, Ga., for burial.

Morgan was fishing with his son, Frederick R. Morgan of 8684 Vincennes st., Chicago, and a son-in-law, Richard Regan of 6413 Horn- ing ave., Chicago. He awakened from his sleep in the stern of the boat, stood up, and fell over the side.

Morgan said he had hold of his father's arms, but became tangled with the fish lines and had to let go. He and Regan were thrown into the water when the boat cap- sized in their efforts to save the older man.

The Antioch Rescue squad worked daily, dragging the area for the body without success.

Tuesday morning a woman on shore near the Forbick farm saw the body floating in the water and the Rescue squad was summoned to recover it.

Coroner Robert Babcox swore in a jury Tuesday at the Strang Fu- neral home and authorized an au- topsy which revealed death re- sulted from drowning.

It was the eighth drowning in Lake county so far this summer.

The Antioch Rescue squad made two calls Wednesday evening. One was occasioned when a car-truck accident took place at route 45 and Sand Lake road at about 8:30.

The car was driven by John Bun- der, Lombard, Ill., and the truck, of the dump variety, was driven by George Lux of Millburn. Neither of the men was seriously injured. They were brought to Antioch by the squad where treatment was ad- ministered by Dr. D. N. Deering.

An earlier call, at about 6:30, saw squadmen traveling to the Bunga- low Food Mart, Monaville road, Lake Villa, where Mrs. Elaine Pac- jen required oxygen, due to an in- fected throat. She will be taken to a Waukegan hospital today.

National Bank Starts New Drive-up Service With Outside Window

The First National Bank of Anti- och instituted one of the newest of banking services today when it opened its new drive-up window.

Under the present arrangement customers can drive up to the re- served area on Lake st. at the north side of the bank building, and transact business through an outside window. A two-way sound amplifier facilitates the bank's in- terior and the employee is protected by a steel bullet proof wall and window. She will have telephone connection with the rest of the bank, and a special wire to the central telephone office.

The new service has two pur- poses. One is to relieve the crowded conditions in the bank by reason of its growth, and to give the patron quicker service by mere- ly driving along the side of the building and making a quick de- posit or withdrawal.

Greater protection will also be afforded the bank, which has been a victim of two holdups in recent years. The cashier at the cage op- ening to the outside will be able to sound a warning with full protec- tion from any gunfire of the bandit.

The main object of the institution, however, is to provide speedier and handier service.

The bank already has provided for night deposits.

The motorist will be able to use the special parking space five minutes. Use of the space other than for outside window banking transactions will call for a police ticket.

Five Killed in Crash On Rte. 41 Is County's Worst Accident in 1953

The worst automobile accident of the year in Lake county occurred Sunday morning when a car bear- ing six persons, traveling at high speed crashed into a tree on Rte. 41 north of Wadsworth rd., killing five.

Killed were Donald Grevenow, Kenosha grocery clerk; the driver; Miss Patricia Murphy, Kenosha, and Miss Helen Krapfl, both nurses at Madison General hospital, Mad- ison, Wis.; Mrs. Olga Sorensen, Ke- nosha, a divorcee and mother of a small boy; and Eugene Saffig, Ke- nosha.

Still living and conscious only at times is Dennis Gerber, Kenosha, whose graduation from the Uni- versity of Wisconsin as a GI student occasioned a party that was held at Hank's place.

When the car got out of control and hit the tree it was split in half and the front portion continued 200 feet before it stopped.

No Fire Calls in 3 Weeks
Antioch firemen have gone three weeks without a fire call of any kind and are hoping that the care- fulness of the public will continue. There hasn't been a single grass fire call since the new law went into effect, making a permit necessary to start a grass fire and placing a penalty on the violator.

Elmer Rentner and Norman Jedele Sell R and J Chevrolet

Ted Keller, Chicago Sales Manager Becomes New Owner Today

Sale of the R & J Chevrolet, Sales, Inc., to Ted Keller of Chi- cago, was announced yesterday by Elmer Rentner and his partner, Norman Jedele.

Keller, who has been sales man- ager for the Uptown-Yarnall Chev- rolet Motors of the north part of Chicago, will take possession in a few days and expects to move to Antioch in about 60 days.

Rentner will seek improvement of his health and has no other plans for the near future. Jedele, a certified public accountant, will engage in that business.

The local Chevrolet garage and sales agency has been under Ren- tner's management since 1933. Mr. Rentner first started as a partner of Art Haley in the filling station business at Lake Villa in 1928. The following year they became agents for the Chevrolet automobile and have since added the Oldsmobile.

In 1933 the Rentner and Haley firm bought the Whitmore Chev- rolet Sales agency in Antioch and Rentner became manager here while Haley remained in Lake Villa. The firm dissolved in 1937 and Norman Jedele became Ren- tner's partner. This arrangement changed the firm name to the R & J Chevrolet.

Jedele retired from the firm in 1944 and Rentner operated the business alone until 1949 when Jedele returned.

Rentner built the first unit of his present business building in 1940 and has added space to it from time to time.

"Antioch is getting a good man as the new owner of the business, and I'm sure it will like him," said Rentner.

After pitching a no-hit game last week, Donald Pyle of the Cubs came back this week and pitched a one-hitter to defeat the Sox 4 to 3 in Little League baseball. Again he virtually won his own game by pounding out two home runs.

Month of June Provides Heat Record for Area; Good Rainfall Needed

June of this year will be remem- bered as the especially hot month in Antioch and vicinity.

The 97-degree temperature on June 19, probably was a record for the time of the year, but Co-opera- tive Observer Roy Kufalk does not have statistics going back very far. Chicago, however, said it was the hottest June 19 in that area.

There were two other days when the mercury soared beyond 90 de- grees. On June 20, the tempera- ture reached 96, and Tuesday of this week, the mercury got to 95.

The coolest for the month was 48 degrees on June 2.

The total rainfall for the month was 2.72, most of which was sup- plied in the 1.72 inch rainfall of June 5. Antioch missed the heavy rain that other parts of the county got last Saturday.

"We could use another heavy rain," said Kufalk.

Pastures need rain and the corn could use it, although much of An- tioch township corn will be the proverbial knee-high by the Fourth of July.

Small grain is beginning to ripen and much hay has been stored.

Margaret Schenning 20, Is Suicide Wed.

Margaret Schenning, 20, Univer- sity of Wisconsin junior, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schenning, of Fox River, Wis., near Wilmot, died Wednesday a. m. as a result of a self-inflicted gunshot wound.

She was a "B" average student at U. of W., but had suffered a severe attack of measles during the last semester of school and had been working very hard to maintain a good scholastic average, and it is thought that this overwork had contributed to her depression and nervousness.

A brother, Richard Schenning, is employed as a Kenosha county deputy sheriff, and as he was off duty he had removed his gun belt, hanging it behind a bathroom door. It was while she was making ready to go to Twin Lakes for an inter- view seeking employment that it is believed that she was seized with a fit of despondency and shot her- self with the gun. The bullet en- tered the left temple, passing com- pletely through her skull and pass- ing out of the window of the room.

Her body is at the Schuette Fu- neral home, Burlington.

Attorney Becomes Ill

Ray Boland, Chicago attorney, suffered a heart attack while driv- ing his car near the Chain O' Lakes Golf course Wednesday morning. Feeling the attack coming on, he drove to the club house where at- tendants gave him first aid and summoned the Antioch Rescue squad. He was taken to Victory Memorial hospital where it was said he is recovering. Boland came to Antioch as attorney for Ted Keller who purchased the R & J Chevrolet Sales, Inc.

Buys Purebred Milking Shorthorns

Mrs. William P. Tague, Argyle Farm, Antioch, Ill., has added to her herd by the purchase of Mel- oness Mary 2d and Archora Diane from Rye Brothers, Avalon, Wis. The new animals are purebred Milking Shorthorns and the record of the transfer of ownership has been made by the American Milk- ing Shorthorn Society at Spring- field, Mo.

New Sports Car Race Track at Wilmot First Of Its Kind in U. S. A.

Kenosha county may become the sports car racing capital of the United States this summer, attract- ing thousands of spectators to the new track being constructed at the foot of a picturesque hill just outside of Wilmot.

Construction of a $75,000 race course, simulating road racing conditions for sleek Jaguars, Fer- raris and Healeys began three weeks ago and within a few days blacktopping of the track will be under way.

The venture is being promoted by the Sports Car Club of America, an organization which lists nearly 150 drivers in the midwestern area.

When held on public highways at Elkhart Lake, Wis., the races at- tracted 100,000 spectators.

Wisconsin has placed a ban on the use of public highways for this kind of sport, and the Elkhart Lake contests came to an end.

A proposal was made last year that roads near Antioch be used for this type of racing, but the plan could not be worked out.

Selection of the site at Wilmot Hills, where the ski slide is locat- ed in the winter season, was made after inspection of six midwestern locations. The natural spectator accommodations and proximity to Milwaukee and Chicago resulted in the selection of the Kenosha county site. The track at Wilmot is the first of its kind constructed solely for racing sport cars in the United States. Designed for the ultimate in spectator accommodations, more than 90 per cent of the entire race course measuring a mile and one- half will be visible from atop the hill on the southwest side of the track.

The first race is scheduled for July 26 when the Milwaukee Re- gion SCCA is host to the inaugural race. A second event is tentatively planned by the Chicago region in September. There are no cash purses in sport car racing. Drivers race for the fun of it and for trophies. Proceeds from admis- sions are earmarked to track con- struction and improvements.

To indicate the extensiveness of plans for the layout at Wilmot, one plot for parking 5000 cars is being arranged besides a picnic grove for fans, bleachers along the straightaway of the course and concessions.

Antioch Moose Move Into Second Place in Chain O' Lakes League

The Antioch Moose felled the mighty Wauconda team 11 to 8, and with an additional victory over Spring Grove 9 to 8 went into second place in the Chain O' Lakes League this week.

The Moose will play Ringwood Friday night and then Wauconda, still the league leaders, next Tues- day.

Both of these games will be at the A. T. H. S. diamond starting at 8 p. m.

Lions Carnival at Fox Lake

The Lions Club of Fox Lake is conducting its annual carnival on Rte. 12 north of Grand ave. The carnival started Wednesday eve- ning and will last until Sunday eve- ning. Chairman John E. Hill said a booth is provided for the Boy Scouts and the Lions. Profits will go for community activities.

Hot Weather Expected To Bring Large Crowd To Lake Area July 4th

Antioch Police and Rescue Squad Prepare for Emer- gency Situations

Hot weather is expected to bring an unusually large crowd to Anti- och and the lake region Saturday, July 4, and Sunday.

Because of the usual crowded conditions no attempt is made by the village to provide entertain- ment other than what the lakes and their resorts afford.

Many of the business houses will close for the holiday, but more than usual will stay open to take care of weekend business and the sup- plies that are needed, especially those that are perishable. In the main, however, business men will Chain grocery stores and other food stores will open this evening and Friday evening both in an ef- fort to give the public opportunity to stock up on food for the double holiday.

To take care of the extra heavy traffic the police department will have extra help.

The Antioch Rescue squad will have extra men on duty around the clock over the weekend.

Because Independence Day falls on Saturday, a regular non-work day for five-day weeks in indus- tries, many Chicago and industrial workers will leave the city on Fri- day or as early as Thursday eve- ning to escape the city's heat and find the cool comfort of the lakes.

Rev. Howard G. Benson New Pastor of Antioch Methodist Congregation

The Rev. Howard G. Benson was appointed pastor of the Antioch Methodist church by Bishop Charles Wesley Brashares during the clos- ing session of the Rock River con- ference Saturday at Sterling, Ill.

He succeeds the Rev. G. Richard Tuttle who, transferred to Sun- ny- side, Wash.

Plummer at Lake Villa
Kenneth Plummer was appointed to the Lake Villa church which he already had started serving.

Showers Didn't Prevent Success of C. L. Fiesta

Showers dampened the gay booth trimmings and street, but not the spirit of the fiesta and street dance sponsored by the Channel Lake Community club. Fun was had by all. The Favorite Child contest closed with Patty Weiczarek the 7,509 vote winner. The prize was $10 for the child and a $5.00 dinner certificate at Smart's. The Dulane Fry-Ryte was awarded to Mr. Ru- dolph Zahrobsky of Channel Lake Bluffs.

The Boy Scouts bake sale looked more like one of the local bakeries with pies, cakes of all descriptions, cookies and bread to choose from.

The Girl Scouts' candy sale made quite a hit with the young set, who always have the perennial sweet tooth.

Mrs. Grace Amendola, chairman of activities, expressed appreciation to those who helped to make the Fiesta a gigantic success.

Car Turns Over Sunday On Grass Lake Road; Occupants Little Injured

George Kilgore, proprietor of the 19th Hole and his guest, Tom Sham of Chicago, escaped with bruises, when Kilgore's Chrysler New York- er turned over on Grass Lake rd. Sunday morning.

Kilgore was driving west behind another car and in trying to give enough room to an approaching automobile got too far onto the shoulder of the narrow road and struck a mail box. This caused the car to deflect to the opposite side of the roadway and go into the ditch, rolling over.

Kilgore took his guest to St. Ther- ese hospital where they were both treated for contusions, and today are greatly improved.

Socialism Eats Our Tax Money

The head of a southern power and light utility recently made a little analysis of one economic aspect of socialized electric development.

He expressed his findings in these words: "The government, with one-seventh the capacity of the private companies, carries only one-six hundredth of the tax load. It would have to pay 25 times as much to be on an equal footing with the private companies. Stated another way, with 12 per cent of the capacity, federal power carries less than one-half of one per cent of the tax load."

Here is more evidence of the uncontested fact that socialized power is subsidized, both directly and indirectly, by all of the taxpayers. Today national attention is focused on the problem of cutting government costs. One of the best ways would be to get government out of the power business as quickly as possible—as has been suggested by former President Hoover and other statesmen. Until then tax all government power the same as private power. Why exempt users of public power from tax payment?

"For Wolves to Howl in"

From Bangor, Maine, to Seattle, Washington, people live the same way. They drive the same automobiles, read the same type of newspaper, enjoy the same radio and television programs, eat the same food, and smoke the same brands of cigarettes. Without a system of high volume, low cost transportation such as provided by the nation's railroads, life as we know it in the 3,000,000 square miles of the United States would not be possible.

At the time of the Louisiana Purchase many people, including Secretary of State James Madison, opposed the United States gaining title to land west of the Mississippi, for the reason that "no colony beyond the river could exist under the same government, but would infallibly give birth to a separate state."

At that time one Connecticut newspaper wrote that "Louisiana is inaccessible and unsuitable for extensive cultivation. An untrodden waste for wolves to howl in." Who could have dreamed that 13 states providing homes for 23,000,000 Americans would be formed from the land of the Louisiana purchase.

This area once considered "unsuitable for extensive cultivation" is now one of the finest farming regions of the nation, producing each year crops which return a thousand fold and more the entire purchase price of the territory. And that takes no account of the tremendous annual production of mineral wealth or the output of thousands of manufacturing industries. In the vast area of the Louisiana Purchase, as in every other section of our land, the story of railroad development is inextricably woven with the settling and development of the country. By always building ahead of civilization, the pioneer railroads made the land accessible and therefore suitable for extensive cultivation and for large settlement. And today the railroads move more tons of freight more miles than all other forms of transportation combined, and do it at a cost so low that even in these times of inflation the average charge for moving a ton one mile is less than 1½ cents.

Without railroad services, what are now many of the main streets of America would be untrodden wastes "for wolves to howl in."

A Healthy Change in Attitude

In view of the president of the National Association of Purchasing Agents, the difference between careful and careless buying in doing business is going to mean the difference between profit and loss. He added: "We are seeing the beginning of the end of that 'get it at any price' policy. I think it will completely pass from the scene."

This is the result of ever-intensifying competition. And it is true of the buying of individuals as well as the buying of businesses. Today, for example, the retailers of the nation are working harder and more effectively than in any recent time to please the consumer and to meet, as best they can, his demands. They are cutting overhead costs wherever possible. They are giving the most careful attention to the training and customer-relations of their employees. They are doing their best to sell their wares at the lowest possible prices—which is reflected in the fact that the share of the retail dollar which stays in their pockets in the form of profit has been running at very low levels.

Competition forces the stores to operate in this fashion, whether they want to or not—competition between chains, independents, super-markets, specialty shops, department stores and every kind of retailing. Once more, the customer is king.

The Low Down from Hickory Grove

To bring our Govt. back home is close to being our prime job. If anybody needs to know the prospects of a good or poor cranberry crop, New England and the Pacific Northwest can do the predicting if there is any good to come from a prediction which if it is like the Weather Bureau, you will catch on is an expensive luxury. If you wear your straw hat when the prediction is for sunshine, you understand.

But cranberries, that is the topic. Congress dives into floors, ceilings, prospects and what not to do or do. And of the 96 senators, 80 of 'em never saw a cranberry bog—but they legislate just as if they were hep. But Govt. has a foot in so many doors and so far from home that it is no wonder Sambo's feet hurt—his nerves are frazzled—and he is in debt to his chin and the water still rising. He has budget nightmares.

Now friends and neighbors, it is time to put the foot down. If we need a new school house, if we want to raise or lower a teacher's salary, we know here in Hickory all about it. Bowing low and asking Big Govt. for alms—'taint Americanlike. Keeping the marines, the army, and the navy in fettle is plenty for Mr. Ike. The governors and mayors can do the local stuff. Sambo, that way, could maybe get some sleep.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA

Salvation Army Camp To Receive 200 Chicago Mothers and Children July 8th

More than 200 mothers and children will leave Chicago Wednesday, July 8, for nine days of vacation fun at Camp Wonderland, the Salvation Army's summer camp located 6 miles northwest of Antioch.

The group is the first of approximately 900 mothers and children who will be guests at the camp this year. Three other groups of mothers and children are scheduled for vacations from July 20 through Aug. 19.

This summer marks Camp Wonderland's thirtieth season. The present 70-acre rolling woodland site was acquired in 1924. Summer vacations for needy mothers and children have been provided by the Salvation Army since the establishment of its first fresh air camp at Glen Ellyn in 1904.

Eighty-five buildings, including a new handicraft shop in the Shagbark section—are scattered over the camp area. Comfortable cabins accommodate 15 to 20 persons each. Colorful formal gardens are surrounded by long stretches of well-kept lawns.

Campers may go swimming, boating and fishing in Center Lake, a quarter of a mile wide and a mile and a half long. The recreational program also includes group games, hikes, picnics, and classes in swimming, handicrafts, and nature study. A large, well-equipped playground is available, as well as a fine baseball diamond.

A modern nursery helps mothers in caring for their infants and toddlers. A trained nurse is in charge and supervises the preparation of individual formulas. Infants may be left in the nursery, and toddlers in the special nursery play yard so that mothers can participate in camp recreational activities.

The 52-day camping season began June 29 with the arrival of some 200 golden agers—men and women ranging in age from 60 to 89 years—for a nine-day vacation.

From July 6-13 approximately 125 Boy Scouts and Girl Guards from the Salvation Army's Scandinavian department will camp at Shagbark, the section of Wonderland designed especially for them. Before going to camp, each guest has a thorough physical examination.

Guests at Camp Wonderland are chosen by the Salvation Army's Family Service Department on the basis of need for a vacation, without distinction as to color or creed. Referrals are accepted from other Salvation Army departments and from the city's other social agencies. Nineteen agencies will be well represented during this summer's camping season.

Lt.-Col. Earl Crawford, welfare secretary, is director of Camp Wonderland.

WHAT IS A BOY AT AGE FOURTEEN?

By Evelyn Hardy Johnson

A boy at age fourteen is laughter, fun, bicycles, friends in the yard galore; A Mom thinks she can bear no more, For there's shouting, running, and candy bars, Football, cokes, radio blasting, Jelly bread and pop corn eating.

Then graduation, cap and gown—ribbons, pins, Hair slicked down. Shoes all shined for Mass at nine, They form a line, march down the aisle. Precious children, every one, But, you are looking for your son, You catch his glance, you look askance, Tears are falling fast. You realize his baby days are past.

Yes, you have plans for this handsome lad, There'll be high school, football, college cheers, For you'll have a son when old age nears. He will sit by your side and calm your fears.

Then fate deals you a crushing blow! Three boys on a road on a clear bright day, A speeding car—just your boy, they say Your grief so great, you feel that surely your heart will break. You turn to God in your humble way, Dear God, it is Thy Will you pray

Our home is silent, laughter stilled, No more our yard with children filled, No handsome son when old age nears Just broken hearts, and a million tears.

The preceding poem, "What Is a Boy at Age Fourteen?" was written by Mrs. Milton P. Johnson, 4338 Hollywood, in memory of her son Ronald Hardy Johnson who was killed Aug. 2, 1952 on Eden's Highway. Ronald was born July 2, 1938 and had graduated from Queen of All Saints shortly before the accident.

MAKE YOUR VACATION TRIP A SAFER ONE

This is to be a record year for automobile travel this summer. To enjoy your trip:

- Get yourself in the right frame of mind for a vacation trip. Relax from the daily tension and pressure before starting out.
- Allow enough time to reach your destination—three hours of driving time (excluding rest periods) for every hundred miles under normal conditions.
- Watch that tendency to "step on it"—no fast driving. Observe speed limits.
- Avoid traveling too far in a day. Take turns driving if other qualified drivers are riding in the car.
- Stop at frequent intervals to avoid fatigue. Get a change from just riding in the car.

WRITING PRISONERS

Michigan Prisoners
Turn Out 200,000
Words Every Day

JACKSON, Mich.—The prisoners of Southern Michigan Prison are turning out 200,000 words a day—and not in letters home. They are writing fiction and articles for the nation's leading magazines and getting paid at the rate of about $300 a week for their efforts.

Writing has become the out-standing spare time activity at the institution. Nearly a sixth of the prison's population is a budding author.

During 1952 the convicts wrote an estimated 10,000,000 words in novels, short stories, poems, jokes, and fillers, and in return they received checks totaling more than $15,000.

One prisoner earned an average of $250 a month, while others receive checks ranging from 50 cents to $800 each.

The most prolific writer in the prison is Steven Schmiedl, a one-armed convict serving life for murder. He writes regularly for several trade publications under the name of Lew York.

The prisoners have formed a manuscript committee and all manuscripts are reviewed by it before their submission to publishers. Some convicts even have professional literary agents to handle their material.

Fiction stories coming out of Jackson usually have a ring of reality in them, for more often than not they are based on true experiences of the authors.

Pawnee Tribe Wins Land Appeal Case

WASHINGTON — The Indian Claims Commission has been directed by the United States Court of Claims to reconsider claims of Oklahoma's Pawnee Indians for "just compensation" for millions of acres of land taken more than a hundred years ago.

The tribe has asked "just compensation" for some one million acres of land in north central Kansas.

A second claim concerns an 1833 treaty whereby the Pawnees ceded to the United States some 25,000,000 acres of land south of the Platte River. Another goes back to an 1838 treaty whereby the Pawnees ceded to the U. S. about 110,418 acres that included Grand Island, Neb.

Some 10,500,000 acres are involved in a claim of land ceded in Nebraska for which the tribe received less than five cents an acre. The fifth claim returned for further consideration involves 4,800 acres of Pawnee land in Nebraska admittedly taken by the government.

No one can estimate the amount the Pawnees would receive if and when they won their case. It would run into millions of dollars, however, since much of the land was taken for practically nothing. Similar cases have resulted in verdicts for the Indians involved and new payments to the tribes by the government.

Desirable Wood Keeps Home Fires Burning

Fireplace wood that burns cheerily, aromatically and with good heat adds a lot to hearth and heart. But there is quite a trick to getting the desired effect. For rule of thumb, wood that is hard and heavy usually makes the best fuel.

If it's heat and lots of it you want, two of the best bets are white oak and hickory. One cord of each is approximately equivalent to one ton of coal. Some others that rate among the tops in the heat parade are birch, sugar maple, red oak and white ash.

For those who delight in exotic aromas and intriguing spark, white pine logs, along with a few pine cones, will fill the bill. The fine fragrance results from the high resin content of the wood. Firs, in the evergreen family, offer the same performance, but their fuel value is less.

Getting an inspiring fireplace fire calls for a special technique. Put a good-sized log in the back of the fireplace. Start the fire on the andirons in front. Then feed on the smaller logs.

New Planes

Successor to the Army's L-17 plane is the L-20, which carries a pilot and six passengers; a pilot, three litter patients and a medical attendant, or a pilot and about 1,600 pounds of cargo. The L-20 is known as the "Beaver." Another new plane is the twin-engine L-23, which carries one pilot and five passengers or the equivalent in cargo and has a safety feature which permits emergency operation on only one of its engines.

Many Attend Dance

Friendly Counter Attractive Approach in National Bank

Plan Local Campaign for Victory Memorial Hospital

Ed Vos, Robert Wilton and Ed Strang, (l. to r.) Antioch business men met recently in discussing the local drive for money for the new addition to Victory Memorial Hospital in Waukegan. Vos, as chairman of the local group, has as his assistants Wilton, Strang, William Brook, Homer La Plant, Dr. David N. Doering, Edward Jacobs, and Loren Sexauer.

Old Type Planes

Army aviators now are flying four types of multi-place, fixed wing aircraft—two of which are being phased out of operation as rapidly as the other two, newer model planes can be procured. The planes being replaced are the L-19, which carries a pilot and three passengers or equivalent cargo, and the LC-128, an interim aircraft pending selection of a standard, multi-place machine.

HOME APPLIANCES ARE NOT FOR CHILDREN

As there is danger in the many labor saving devices around your home, children should not be left alone with them while they are in use. When you go off to answer the phone, doorbell and the like, teach children not to touch or play near the washing machine and wringer, iron, toaster, mixer, stove and other mechanical equipment.

Other hazards for children are the furnace, hot box, and electric power tools.

Sheer Runproofs With Surprise Heel

Have you always put runproof stockings in the "practical" rather than the "pretty" category? Then there's a wonderful discovery in store for you — a new runproof stocking so lovely it rivals your favorite dress-up sheers. It has all the beauty of regular 15 deniers. It's sheer—very, very sheer—yet it will never spoil a perfect evening by popping an unsightly run.

But the surprise feature is its heel! Instead of being knit in mesh, as the rest of the stocking is, the heel is knit just like the heel on a regular sheer stocking. It's also proportioned to fit individual leg dimensions so that it won't slip down into a shoe or bunch up into ugly wrinkles.

Best yet—it's one of Belle-Sharmer's famous leg-size stockings — not just a medium-length stocking that has to be adjusted to every leg regardless of shape. It comes in leg sizes that differ in width as well as length. There's never any bagging or binding. It fits so clingingly it's like a second lover's skin.

History of Glass

Man's use of glass began before history was written. Glass, fused in volcanic heat as obsidian, was used for weapons by the aborigines. Early Egyptians, and later the Romans, advanced the use of glass for objects of art.

But it was not until the American invention of a machine to make glass bottles in the 1890s that the production of glass blossomed into a great industry.

The inventor was Michael Joseph Owens. He worked for years before he invented his machine which was patented in 1894.

Owens organized one of the first big glass production companies and is credited with being the father of the giant glass industry of today.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By
CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

Almost everyone is familiar with the statement, "Ignorance of the law is no excuse." Protect yourself on your vacation trip by learning the traffic laws of the states through which you will pass.

It is more than just a matter of avoiding possible arrest for infrations of traffic regulations which are different from Illinois', it is also a protection against accidents. Efforts are being made to standardize moving traffic regulations, but at present there are still some great differences in the way states approach their traffic problems.

Rules governing the right-of-way are different; arm signals mean different things; signs are different; road markings are different; some states have definite speed limits, while others don't; laws governing turning are different.

Failure to understand a state's regulations on any one of those things could lead to a serious crash that would bring an abrupt end to your vacation. Carefully observing Illinois' traffic laws in some other state may be the very thing that will cause an accident. Protect yourself by taking the time to learn the other state's laws.

THE SCOURGE OF ARMIES
by Science Features

Dysentery has been the scourge of fighting men in every war in history. The disease can strike in epidemic proportions, especially where many men share the same living facilities—as in an army, aboard a ship, or in a prison camp. It is particularly prevalent in Korea.

Even in countries where rigid public health standards are enforced, this disease can be a problem. Some health authorities estimate that 5 to 10 per cent of all Americans are infected with the dysentery germs, although all may not show the symptoms.

Dysentery is a term given to disorders in which there is inflammation of the bowels with diarrhea. Bacillary dysentery, as the name implies, is caused by bacteria, while a parasite called an ameba causes amebic dysentery.

United Nations doctors in Korea have had a unique opportunity to study thousands of cases of both types of dysentery in prisoner of war camps, and to report their evaluation of the latest treatments. Two of their studies covered 1,408 cases of acute bacillary and 538 cases of acute amebic dysentery.

In the first series four antibiotics were used, with best results reported with terramycin. All of the patients treated with it were pronounced cured seven days after treatment began. Against amebic dysentery both antibiotics and other drugs were used. Again, terramycin "proved to be the most effective of the antibiotics."

Knowledge gained by these tests with FW's helps doctors in the selection and application of the most effective treatment to cases of both types of dysentery.

CHICAGO—No bees in this lady's bonnet — just specs and smokes! Its carryall pocket is one of this season's "high" fashions on straws trimmed with everything from real sea horses and starfish to miniature bicycles.

SHORT STORY

The Wise Guy

By John Connolly

JUST after the feature race at Jamaica race track one Saturday, Jake Hunter and I are standing back of the finish line.

Jake is not the reserved type horseplayer. Once he gets ahead he grows long on advice, yakety-yak. All afternoon he needles me. "I told you, Homer," he says when he gets his winners. "Throw away your form and stick with your Uncle Jake's peerless picks. I'll make you rich and fat."

Jake is a great one for angles. If he is right about racing, even the horses belong in jail. A jockey lifts his cap twice in the parade to post, or a trainer winks at a girl in the paddock and Jake says this is the tipoff. He rushes to the win window. Through some queer quirk of circumstances these horses win today.

Me, I'm a handicapper, a man of science. By now I won't bet Jake's selection if it is the lone horse in the race. So I have a few losers today. I happen. I got nothing too much against Jake, but at a time like this I'm partial to a modest winner.

Anyway, we're standing there exchanging unpleasanties when a short, redheaded character comes up. He looks a sure bridge jumper, like he is personally responsible for all the loot that is bet and lost at the track. "Either of you guys want to buy a good watch, cheap?" he whispers to us.

We shake our heads, but he's not stopped.

"Listen, men," the redhead says, "I tapped myself out on the last race and if I go home empty again tonight my old lady'll massacre me. I got to have a stake to get me off the hook."

I keep quiet but Jake tells him, "I already own a watch."

"Just take a look at it," the stranger insists. He pulls back his sleeve and holds up his left wrist with a watch on it. "It's yours for a lousy sixty dollars. Cost me a hundred and ninety last month."

"Can you beat it?" the redhead asks Jake.

"I don't know," Jake says. "I don't know anything about watches. I'm no jeweler."

"You don't have to be no jeweler." The little guy is indignant and he raises his voice from a whisper to a sort of hoarse whine. "All you got to be is able to read."

"Take it off and let me look at it," Jake folds his racing form and puts it in his pocket. He takes the watch and checks the second hand. He holds it up to his ear and listens for a while. Finally, still holding on to it, he makes his bid. "I'll give you thirty bucks for it."

"Thirty bucks," the redhead lets out a feeble echo. He is severely wounded. He stares sadly into space, trying to recover from the shock. I expect him to break into tears, but he pulls himself together.

"Pal," he says to Jake, "you know you got me by the ears. You know as well as I do, this watch will hook for three times thirty back in town."

"Thirty bucks," Jake repeats. He holds out three ten dollar bills. The redhead turns to me, maybe for sympathy, but I'm strictly neutral as they say in Russia. He takes a look at the clock on the tote board which shows how much time there is left before the final race. He takes a long, big breath, accepts the thirty dollars from Jake, and walks away into the crowd without another word.

"Homer," Jake says to me after a couple minutes go by. "I should've give that guy my selection in this race."

"You done enough for him already, Jake," I tell him. Since I expect to put the arm on Jake for dinner if I back another loser, I reserve my opinion on the watch transaction. But on my way to the two dollar window, to wager on the last race, I see the redhead again.

He is just as miserable as before, but he's sporting a different wristwatch. He's holding up his left wrist, showing the watch to someone he has cornered under the grandstand. He looks very sad as he talks.

Just then I decide to forget Jake's being a wise-guy and needing me all afternoon. In fact, I consider ways of making book on the value of his new timepiece.

HAVE A SAFER VACATION TOO

Whether you plan to go away or stay around home, use these common sense suggestions for a safer, enjoyable vacation.

- Always swim with others not alone. Do not dive into unfamiliar water or go bathing immediately after eating.
- Get your suntan gradually, as a severe sunburn can easily spoil your vacation.
- When boating, don't show off or rock the boat. Non-swimmers should stay out of boats unless life jackets are available.
- Shun too much or too strenuous play that causes over-exertion.
- Limit sports activity according to your physical condition, age and the heat of the day.
